MILESTONE 1974

LANHAM, MARYLAND

STEINER DAY DEDICATION

A soul-winner and testimony for the Lord, Pete Steiner was to be a senior and student body president of the Washington Bible College in the fall of 1971. On May 30, 1971, Pete was called home to be with the Lord. Almost a year and a half later, September 22, 1973, Pete Steiner Memorial Dormitory was dedicated to God. At that outdoor ceremony, 700 people attended to praise God for His faithfulness in raising up this men's residence hall.

Pete's own pastor, Rev. Glenn Yeckley, recalled some of his memories of Pete's dedication and service for the Lord in his early life. Speaking from II Chronicles 6, he likened the dedication of Solomon's temple to the dedication of Steiner Hall. Everyone was admonished to continue to pray for those who would work and study in this new dorm.

Pete's father also took part in the dedication ceremony. He shared many of Pete's thoughts and goals as recorded in Pete's Bible, books, and papers. Mr. Steiner also spoke of the great spiritual impact that Pete's testimony had upon his own family.

As part of the ceremony, a dedication plaque was uncovered and a prayer of dedication was made. Mr. J. Russel Bailey, the architect, presented the key of the building to Mr. Maurice Hauschildt, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. President Miles expressed his gratitude and thanks to all who worked on, prayed for, and financially supported the building of this dormitory.

The ceremony was the consummation of the realization of a much needed facility for men.

WALK WORTHY

of the vocation wherewith ye are called

In a day and age when the whole world is corrupt in its own desires and blinded to the truth of God, it is difficult to know how to obey the command to "walk worthy." The truly worthy walk can only be done as one saturates himself in the Word of God until that which he reads and hears is borne out in practice. This fact also necessitates the surrendering of one's heart and life to the Lord Jesus Christ as personal Saviour. Upon salvation, God called us out from among the world to be conformed to the image of His Son, and to shine forth as lights to those in darkness. In that we have received this calling, the Apostle Paul admonished us not to live as we formerly lived, but to live as deserving of the holy calling.

We as students of the Washington Bible College, having accepted Jesus Christ as our Saviour and Lord, do now seek to walk worthy of God's calling. We have felt called here to study the Word of God under men and women who also know, love, and serve the living God. The curriculum offered here is such that would enable us to become better students of the Bible and to incorporate a Biblical philosophy into secular courses. The activities at the college afford opportunities to talk about and to put into practice the principles taught in the classroom. This short period of either three or four years is simply a time when we can begin to learn to walk worthy of God's calling. The years to come after graduation must also be a part of this worthy walk as we continue to serve the Lord.

This yearbook seeks to emphasize the various aspects of school life which help us to learn how to walk worthy . . .

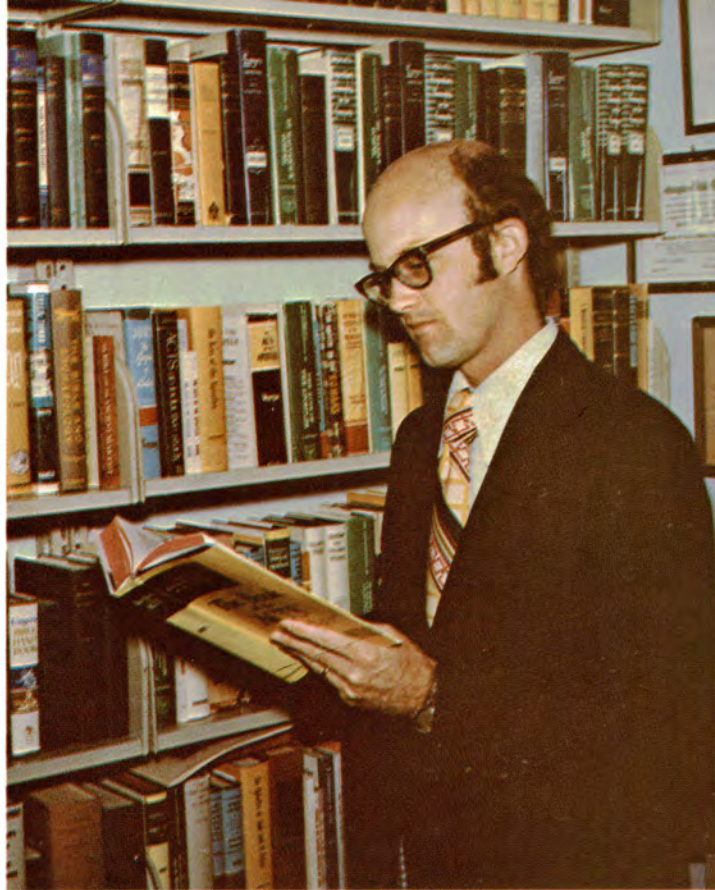

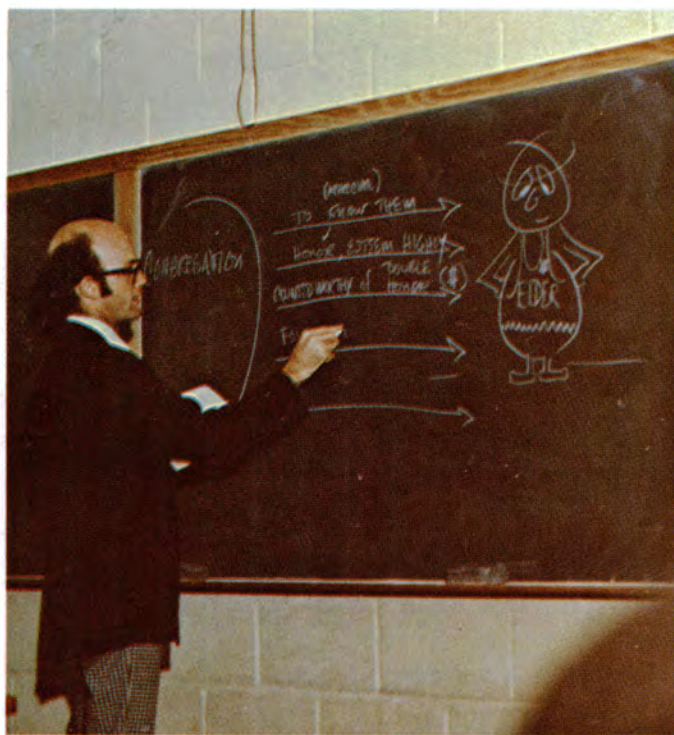

DEDICATION

We, the Milestone staff, desired to dedicate our yearbook to someone whose life exhibits our theme. With this desire, we discovered one who not only tells but shows us how to "walk worthy of the vocation" to which we are called.

The man we chose is one who actively participates in the campus ministry and open air program of the college. Outside the college, he coordinates the Sunday School program in a local church. In his neighborhood, both he and his family are an honor to the Lord in verbal and active Christian witness. As a professor, he is interested in building up the students in sound doctrine, and as a servant of God, he enjoys winning others to Christ and discipling them on to maturity.

For his faithfulness to the Lord, the yearbook staff takes pleasure in dedicating the 1974 Milestone to Professor Paul G. Mangum.

Pres. Miles teaching Ladies Bible Class

Miss Bergsten

President Miles, as the Administrative Head of the Washington Bible College is an example to all the students of one who walks worthy of his vocation. In an interview with Mr. Miles, he shared his insights on the walk and vocation of the Christian. His views are clearly evidenced in his own life.

To President Miles, the vocation to which we are called is being conformed to Jesus Christ. In salvation we are identified with Christ; therefore, our walk should be in conformity with that relationship. All things that God brings into our lives join together to bring about God's purpose of conformity, Rom. 8:28-29. It is possible for us as believers, to walk to glorify God, or to walk to dishonor God and His calling. The honorable walk cannot be done in our own strength, but is only accomplished through the power of Christ — it is a miracle in itself.

The Washington Bible College is one element that the Lord has brought into our lives to fulfill His purpose of conformity of our lives to Christ. We are encouraged and challenged by the life of President Miles to live according to the Word of God. In his words concerning the Christian's vocation, President Miles expressed it this way: "It is not what we do, but what we are."

Pres. Miles

Mr. Robert O. Woodburn

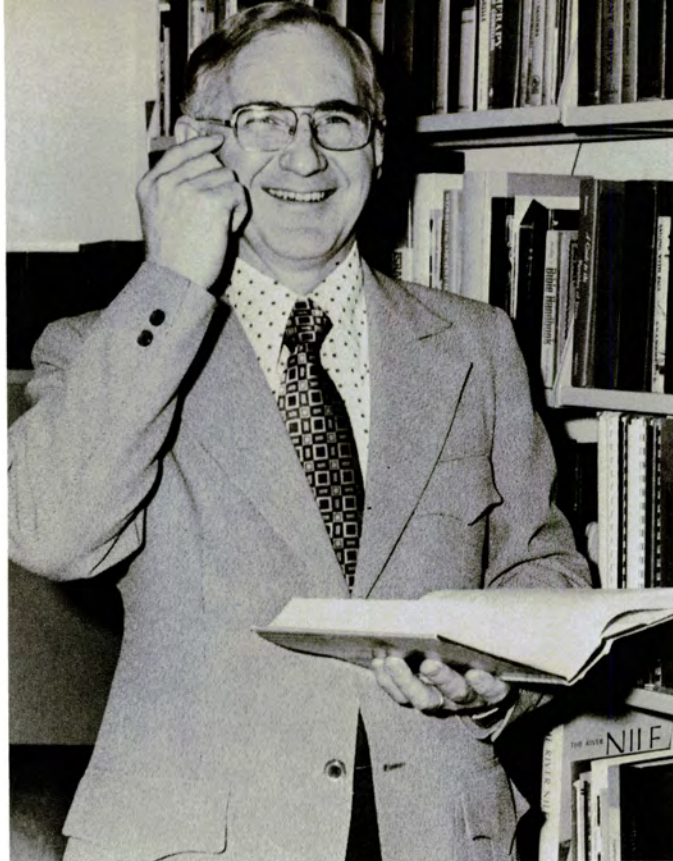

Mrs. Sandy Epstein
Sec. to the Academic Dean

Academic Dean, Robert Woodburn, helps to establish the academic tone and maintain the educational functions of the Washington Bible College. He has various responsibilities through which he, too, seeks to walk worthy of God's calling; His main responsibilities are to insure the educational integrity of the college and to provide ample opportunity to develop various vocational competencies. These two areas deal directly with the theme of our yearbook.

Through the curriculum, we are introduced to certain aspects of education: The English Bible, Arts and Sciences, and Professional Education. Each of these divisions affects a dimension of our lives that helps us in learning to walk in honor of God. In the English Bible division, Bible and theology courses form the foundation of the worthy walk. We cannot walk worthy apart from the Word of God, and these courses give us insights as to interpretation and exegesis of the Word. Secondly, the Arts and Sciences division helps us see our vocational calling in a larger context. It presents basic disciplines which open us to man's cultural past and to human modes of expression and communication. The third division, Professional Education, provides opportunity for us to develop spiritual gifts and aptitudes in a specialized area of vocational interest. This division comprehends four main departments: Christian Education, Evangelism and Missions, Pastoral Studies, and Sacred Music. Upon entering one of these areas we can be equipped to better serve the Lord and walk pleasing unto Him in the field of service to which we feel called.

As students, we are thankful that we have an academic dean who walks worthy of his vocation and also coordinates a program of education that can help us to walk worthy of our calling.

SENIOR REFLECTIONS

In pondering how four years of Bible College helped us in learning to walk worthy of God's calling, our minds consider the various parts of our life.

Academically, W.B.C. has brought us into the wide realm of history, English, speech, music, literature, psychology, and science viewed from a Biblical perspective. The professors have tried to teach us valuable principles that will enhance our ministries and lives in the world. At times, we may not have understood why we had to enroll in certain courses, or why we had to learn various facts. But later, we looked back and realized how God led the professors in their lessons.

Spiritually, W.B.C. gave us the opportunity to grow in the knowledge of the Word to enable us to walk worthy. We learned more about the Christian life, our Christian witness, the Law, the prophets, the epistles, the life of Christ, and Bible doctrines. Each of our Bible courses built us up spiritually in different areas. Each has helped us to mature in Christ, sometimes a little and sometimes greatly. The professors expounded from the Word how to overcome trials, to share our faith, to be steadfast in sound doctrine. We even learned some Greek that we might be able to appreciate and interpret Scripture more effectively.

Socially, four years at W.B.C. meant new people coming into our lives: special friends, roommates, missionaries, and members of the faculty and staff. By fellowship with others in various prayer meetings and events, we were drawn closer together as God would have us. Each year we had banquets, socials, and sports that allowed us to get to know those of the opposite sex, too. Living in a dorm situation and learning from others' examples also helped us to walk worthy of our calling in Christ.

Yes, each part of our life was affected by the Washington Bible College. We cannot leave without saying that it made an impression on our lives that cannot be erased. It is now as seniors that we look back and give thanks to God for His working grace in our lives.

EVENING SCHOOL

DR. DAVID K. JOHNSON; Faculty member, WBC

REV. PAUL KENDLE, Pastor, Adelphi Bible Church

REV. L. SAMUEL MARTZ, Pastor, Grace Memorial Church

The Evening School program of the Washington Bible College makes it possible for area residents to increase their knowledge of the Bible and related Biblical areas at a minimal cost. The students have the opportunity of taking these courses of instruction from men who are well-grounded in Biblical truth. These men include both WBC and CBS professors, as well as area pastors. One of the advantages of the Evening School program is that it offers a systematic way of Biblical education which culminates in the student receiving a diploma for the completion of his course of study. There is a requirement of 24 hours of study to receive the diploma. The courses offered include Old Testament Survey, New Testament Survey, Church Educational Agencies, Life of Christ, Romans, Bible Geography and many others.

In addition to the diploma which is offered by the Evening School it is now possible to take College Credit courses. These are classes which meet one night per week for three hours. During the past year Old Testament Survey, New Testament Survey and Theology-Christology were offered.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL

The primary purpose of the Correspondence School is to encourage as many Christians as we can to study the Bible and related subjects. There is no blessing equal to the personal reward derived from a study of the Word. The only requirement is an earnest desire and determination to study the Word. When the student faithfully sets aside a certain period of time for systematic study, rapid progress will be the reward.

A certificate is awarded by the College upon satisfactory completion of each subject. In addition, the student will earn a Preliminary Teacher Training Certificate, issued by the Evangelical Teacher Training Association, Wheaton, Ill., upon completion of the first six subjects.

COURSES OF STUDY

1. BIBLE SURVEY - Genesis to Esther

The Bible Survey subjects are not intended to be intensive. Each book is outlined and its importance in the plan of redemption is emphasized. Important features and teachings are examined, and in general, a bird's-eye view is retained.

2. BIBLE SURVEY - Job to Malachi

3. BIBLE SURVEY - New Testament

4. UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE

An examination of various age groups, from infants to adults, their characteristics, and the methods of presenting truth to each age group.

5. TEACHING TECHNIQUES

The study of the teacher and the seven laws of teaching.

6. THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

The organization, staffing, teaching materials, and administration of the Sunday School.

7. PERSONAL EVANGELISM

This subject is presented with the prayer that the student will be led by the Holy Spirit into a daily life of effective witnessing. The preparation of the soul winner is first studied. The method of presenting the gospel and the various types of excuses comprise a large part of the study. Selected scriptures for memorization constitute a major part of the study.

8. GOSPEL OF JOHN

Perhaps no book of the Bible is more greatly loved than John. This study is designed to emphasize the purpose as given in 20:31. The various lines of proof of the deity of Christ and the riches of the discourses will unfold as verse-by-verse treatment is pursued.

9. EPISTLES TO THE ROMANS

Romans is often called the lawyers' book because of its logical presentation of the gospel in setting forth the righteousness of God. This study will prove a valuable introduction to the doctrines in Romans and prepare the student to reach others for Christ. The treatment is factual and well outlined.

10. THE BIBLE, THE WORD OF GOD

A study of where we got our Bible, its inspiration, and emphasis upon its supernatural content.

11. THE TRIUNE GOD

A study of the Trinity and the individual persons in the Godhead.

12. BIBLICAL BELIEFS

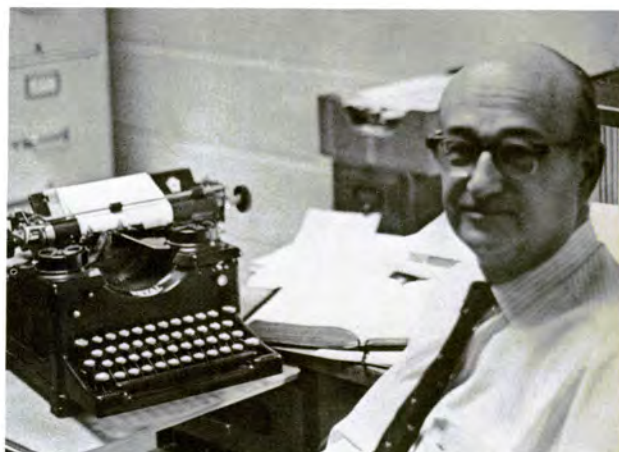

A study of inspiration, salvation, man, angels, future things, and other basic doctrines.

13. SPIRITUAL LIFE

The study of the Holy Spirit in His relation to the believer is an essential of the Christian's life. This study considers the various ministries of the Spirit.

CAPITAL BIBLE SEMINARY

FACULTY: CAPITAL BIE

On a graduate level of study a student expects very specialized and highly-trained instructors. Capital Bible Seminary has sought to provide men in the classroom who are professionals in their fields. The professor is the main ingredient in education, and thus, needs to be the most capable possible.

Three men constitute the full-time faculty of the Seminary. Assisting these men are local men with experience and education in their respective fields.

REV. HOMER HEATER, JR. B.A., M.A., B.D.
Acting Dean

Mr. Heater is a native of West Virginia. While working for the government, God laid the burden of the ministry upon his heart. A graduate of Washington Bible College and Capital Bible Seminary himself, he brings a real understanding of Bible education to the Administration. While a pastor he felt a great need for even more education personally and the need for better educated men for the ministry. He is a candidate for a Ph.D. degree in Semitics. His joy in communicating Christ and deep love of the Scripture is a challenge and inspiration to his students.

LE SEMINARY

DR. JOHN H. MULHOLLAND, B.A., Th.M., Th.D.
Registrar

DR. THOMAS R. EDGAR, B.S., Th.M., Th.D.
New Testament Literature and Exegesis

Military service is all Dr. Edgar knew as a boy because he grew up in a military home. He received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy and graduated as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Marine Corps.

While serving his country he became a Christian and his purpose in life was changed. He graduated from Dallas Theological Seminary majoring in New Testament Greek. After a short time in the pastorate, the Edgars came to Capital Bible Seminary with the desire for a ministry in the lives of future Christian leaders.

Dr. Mulholland came to know Jesus Christ as a boy in Philadelphia. While in College, the idea of a teaching career became very real. He pursued graduate study at Dallas Theological Seminary where he majored in Systematic Theology. The Mulholland family came originally to the College. Dr. Mulholland served as Professor of Theology and Dean of Students for a number of years. The Professor of Systematic Theology at C.B.S., he is actively involved in extensive prophetic ministries in churches and conferences.

Life at the Seminary can be best equated with that of a large family. With only fifty students, it is small enough to afford intimate fellowship among all the students. Being situated on the College campus, the Seminary student becomes a part of a much larger body though distinct. He has access to all the facilities and services on campus.

Informal fellowship between classes with students and faculty, picnics, socials, family get togethers at faculty homes, special spiritual life days, chapel and days of evangelism all contribute to make life as rewarding as possible.

To give leadership to the student body, a Student Council is elected by the students.

The fundamental position of historic Christianity is the position held by Capital Bible Seminary and is the doctrine proclaimed in its classrooms.

The Seminary is designed to build a structure on the basic foundation established in the classroom of a Bible College. Christian liberal arts college graduates as well as graduates from other private and public institutions are welcomed.

As a Bible seminary, the Bible is the heart of the curriculum. Emphasis is placed on a working knowledge of the original Hebrew and Greek scriptures. Coupled with sound Biblical and Systematic Theology, English Bible exposition, and experience in the practical aspects of the Christian ministry, C.B.S. is producing qualified leaders for the Church.

The Seminary program includes two graduate degrees. A Master of Arts in Biblical Studies is designed to be a one-year program. The Master of Theology degree is a three-year program for those who meet the undergraduate requirements.

The Student Council seeks to bring about a better understanding between faculty and students. To create this favorable atmosphere the council realizes that it must build up the students spiritually. This year the Student Council used several chapel periods to encourage and exhort students and faculty alike. They also planned socials to provide fellowship and bring the students together on a more personal basis. At the beginning of the school year the Council sponsored a "get-acquainted" social to help the Freshmen adapt to college life.

SIONS FELLOWSHIP

As the name implies, Student Missions Fellowship involves various groups of students with interests in missions around the world. Students are urged to get involved with missions through attending weekly prayer bands, giving, writing to missionaries, and going to the foreign field during the summer. S.M.F. sponsors the Annual Missionary Conference, the Summer Missionary Program, and smaller missionary projects throughout the year. Each week a chapel period is designated to the S.M.F. for speakers to inform of mission boards and foreign field need.

Students unite in prayer for missionaries and mission field needs.

Chi Alpha Omega is the honor society of the college. Its Greek letters symbolize Christ, the beginning and the ending. Those students who achieve a grade point average of 3.5 or above are inducted into the society's membership. The purpose of the society is to encourage the students to diligently study the Word of God and to promote high scholastic attainment in general education.

THE REFLECTION

For ten weeks last summer The Reflection, a musical team from the Washington Bible College, toured 13 states from Maine to Iowa. The group ministered in Bible Conferences, camps, conventions, churches and youth rallies. After a musical program was presented, the Word was preached by George Tissiere. The members of the team had many opportunities to witness for Christ and to share with young people the importance of a Bible College education.

THE MEN'S QUARTET

The end of the academic year saw the formation of a new musical group to represent the College. This group of men saw activity in churches during April and May as preparation for their summer tour. This summer they will be touring the states of North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

THE WOMEN'S TRIO

The Gospelites, WBC's Women's Trio, toured the northeastern states for ten weeks during the summer of '73. They had meetings in churches and camps. On several occasions they sang at banquets. Often they were accompanied by President Miles or Mr. Robert Evans, Director of Public Relations.

Each girl has fond memories of their tour, but the most important element of their tour was the opportunity to share Christ and to have fellowship with other believers.

THE BRASS ENSEMBLE

This year an expanded ensemble saw more activity than in other years. The ministry of the group was seen mainly by those in the College student body. The Brass Ensemble saw service in the call to worship during Chapel and also during the musical programs which were presented by the College. The Choir was privileged to have the Brass Ensemble with them at many of the concerts where preludes and special music were provided by them.

During 1974, a group of 38 musicians had the privilege of serving the Lord in song. Under the direction of E. James Bos the Choir gave concerts at school functions and in churches. The year was highlighted by a tour of the north-eastern United States and Canada.

In addition to the concerts which the Choir presented they enjoyed a real spirit of unity by joining together in prayer and in social activities. These included ice skating, all-nite bowling, and dinner at the Bos' home.

This year saw the Women's Chorus under a new director, Mr. Richard Moerschel. Under his direction the Chorus was molded into a group of 16 women singing to and of the glory of God. Within the short span of 3 months the Chorus performed in concert with the College Choir, Christmas Oratorio by Camille Saint-Saens. This was a true tribute to the girls' musical talent and dedication to praising the Lord in song.

Each week the Women's Chorus sang in churches. They also presented musical scores in Chapel and at school functions. The year was highlighted by a tour through Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio during the Easter Break.

The Women's Chorus practiced many hours to be prepared for concerts.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

The Women's Auxiliary is a supporting arm of the Washington Bible College. This group of women desires that the Lord bless and use the college. For this reason they meet together regularly to pray for the students, faculty, staff and alumni. In addition to praying the women correspond with the alumni to encourage them in their work. They also sponsor projects at the college to make the campus more pleasant for the students. During the past year the Auxiliary's projects included a piano for the music practice rooms, a new blade for the Print Shop's paper cutter and a Bell and Howell movie projector for the audio-visual department of the college. To the Women's Auxiliary we would like to express our thanks and appreciation. Thank you.

I Cor. 10:31

STUDENT LIFE

PHYSICAL

Any excuse will do to take a break — even having your picture taken!

Please take note of how much Kathy's appearance helps this picture prove a point.

What characterizes a young person between the ages of 18 and 25? Generally, three things in the physical realm do. Young people like sports. Young people are concerned about their appearance. Finally, given the opportunity they can be very lazy.

Char says, "There's nothing like a good book to stimulate the old social life."

"It's about time they've written again! It's been two days since I've heard anything from home."

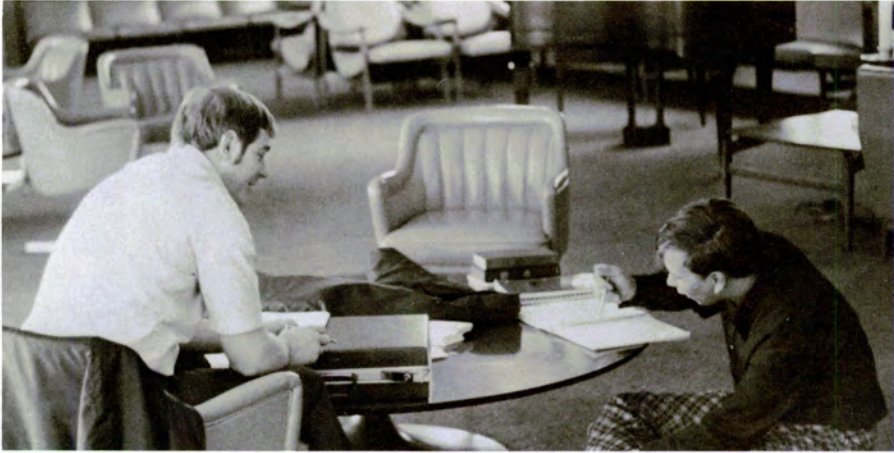

SOCIAL

There are two basic characteristics of young people between the ages of 18 and 25. First, they are beginning to break the ties of home and family. Second, they are developing a strong social instinct.

MENTAL

"If I want to sit on the floor to do my homework, that's what I'll do and you're not going to change my mind!"

"I've decided I want

"My life goal is to be a typist . . . provided you'll teach me how to type."

Young people between the ages of 18 and 25 have the capabilities of adults but not the maturity that must accompany it for intelligence to be effective. They think seriously about their life goals. In general, young people in this age group are independent thinkers yet they often accept what is given without testing it.

to be on p. 127."

... witnessing at the University of Maryland.

SPIRITUAL

... sharing prayer requests to take to the Lord.

... even the faculty gets involved in giving out the message.

... being exhorted concerning spiritual matters.

There are two major characteristics which deal with the spiritual part of a young person's life: a desire for the Christian way of life; and a desire for Christian service. We hope these characteristics are abounding at WBC.

CAMPUS COMEDY

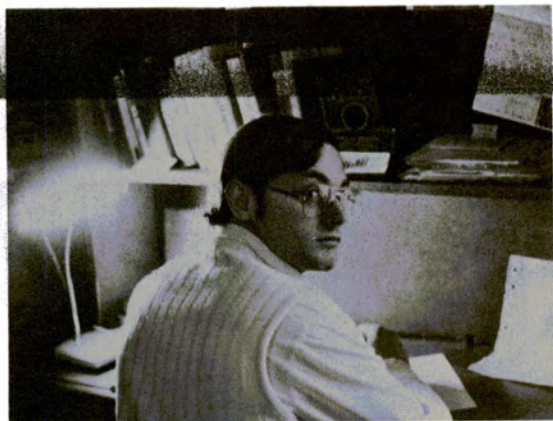

"I've got a sister that I'd like you to meet."

"If he gives me one more deadline to meet I'm going to be sick!"

Our flutist is flirting.

"I'm writing daddie and mommie for $$$."

"If you only knew how much I dread having to take Greek."

"See me blow my horn . . ."

"If they keep giving me roommates I'll keep getting rid of them."
